Open Badge Network

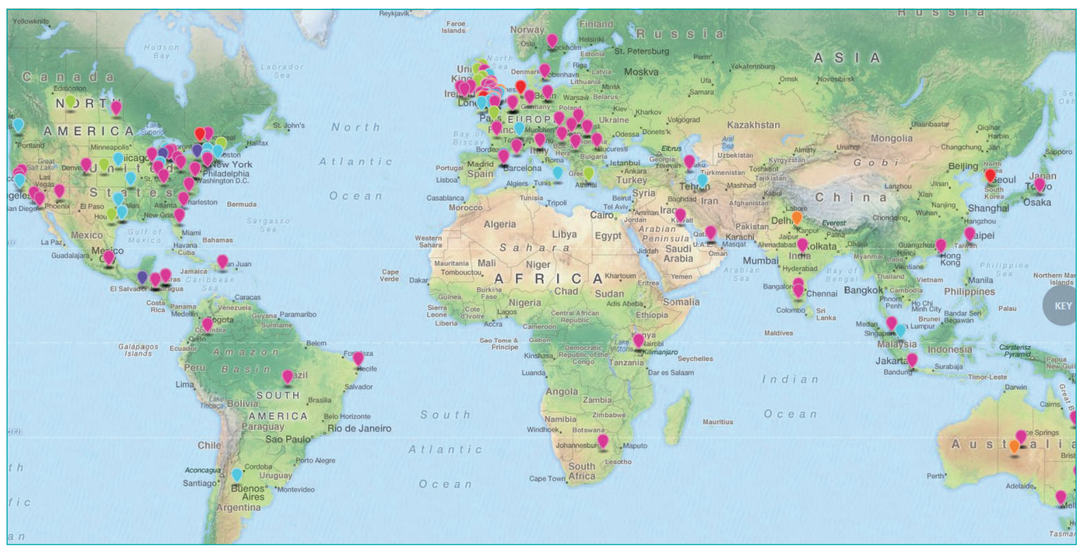
BEUTH HOCHSCHULE
FÜR TECHNIK
BERLIN

What is Open Badge Network?

The Open Badge Network (OBN) is an Erasmus + project which brings together organisations from across Europe to support the development of an Open Badge ecosystem, promoting the use of Open Badges to recognise the outputs of non-formal and informal learning.

Who are the OBN partners?

- Beuth University of Applied Sciences Berlin (DE, coordinator)
- CamProf - Cambridge Professional (UK)
- DME - DigitalMe (UK)
- DUO - Dutch Education Executive Agency (NL)
- EDEN - European Distance E-Learning Network (UK)
- ARTES - Applied Research into Training & Education (IT)
- ITeE - The Institute of Sustainable Technologies (PL)

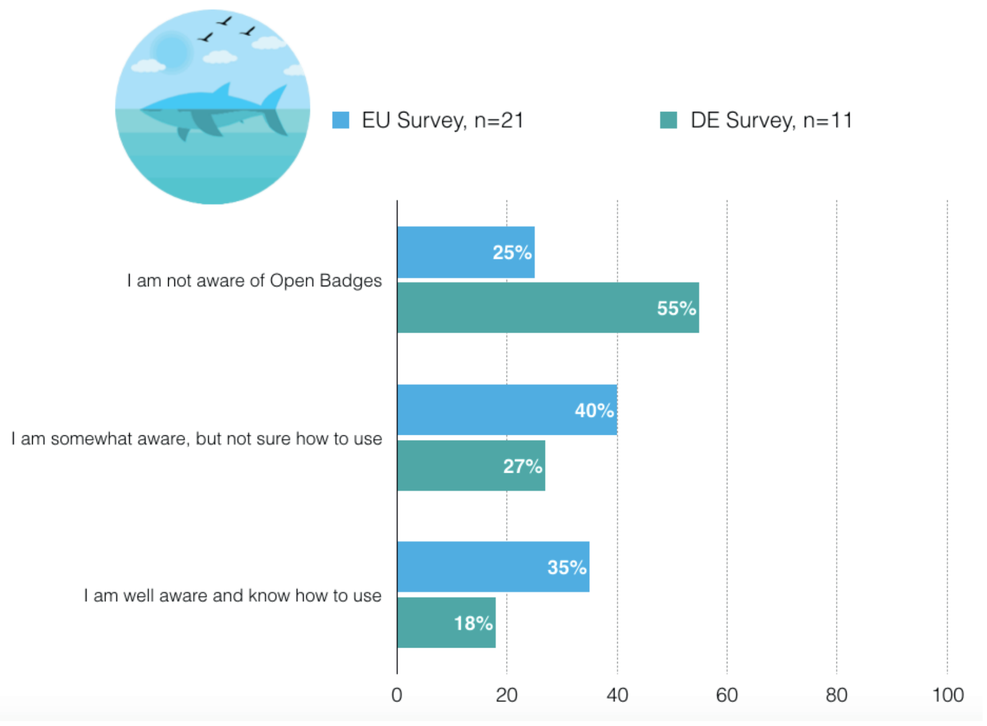


World Map with Open Badges initiatives and projects – www.badgetheworld.org

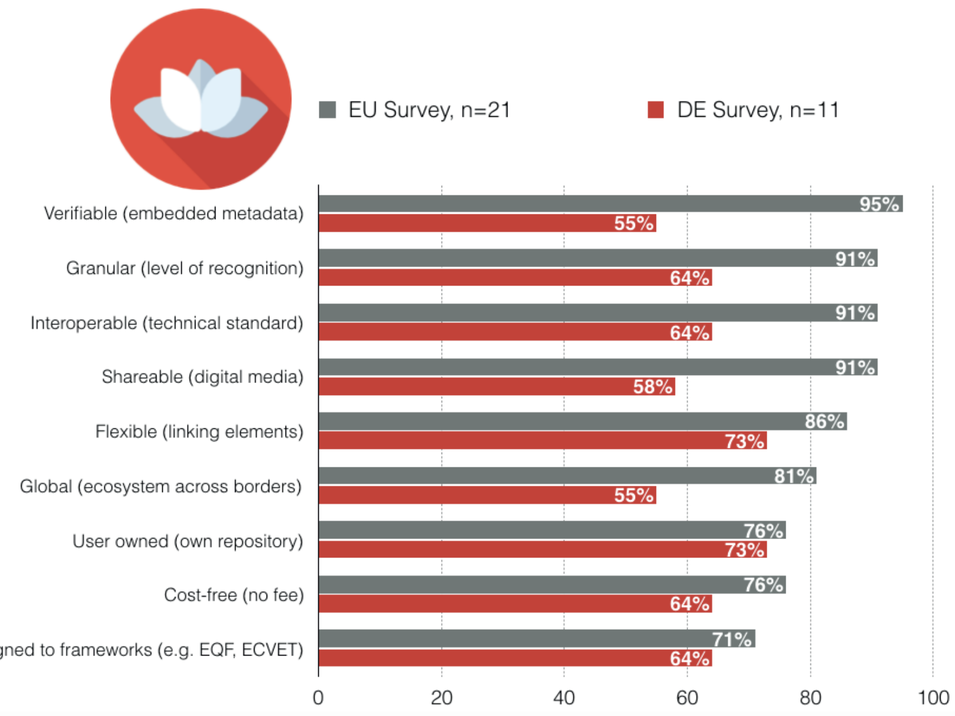
What makes a Badge?

"90% of the badge system is not visual"
Klein, J. (2013)

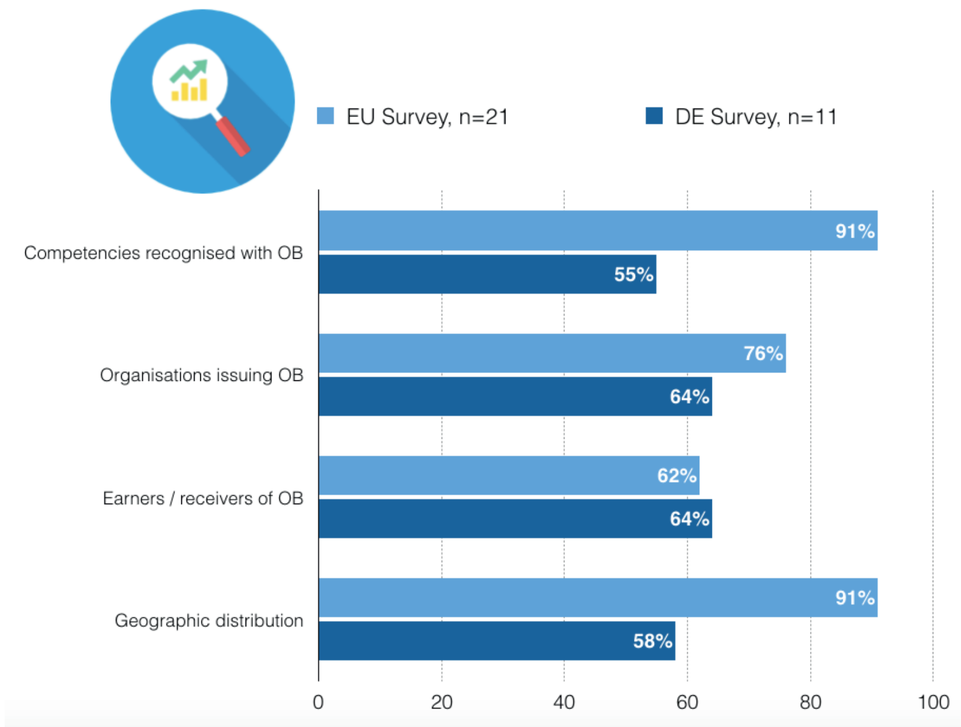
How aware are you of Open Badges?



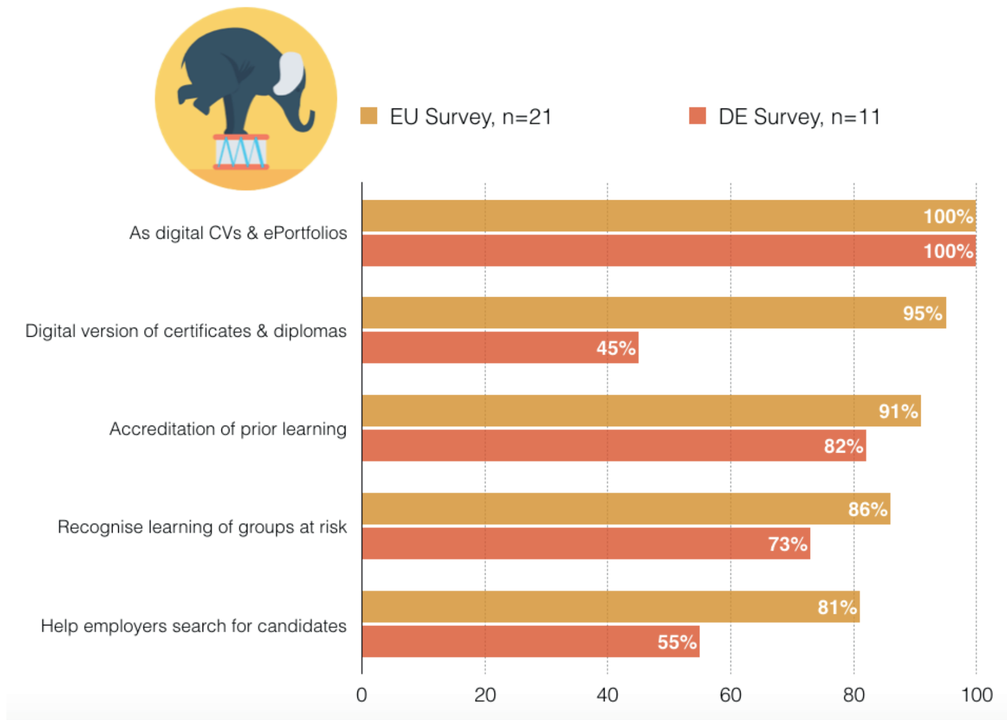
Which OB features are essential?



What statistical data is of interest?



What is the potential of Open Badges?



Prof. Dr. Ilona Buchem
E-Mail: buchem@beuth-hochschule.de, www.openbadgenetwork.com

www.beuth-hochschule.de

Erasmus+

Open Badge Network